THE COMPASS
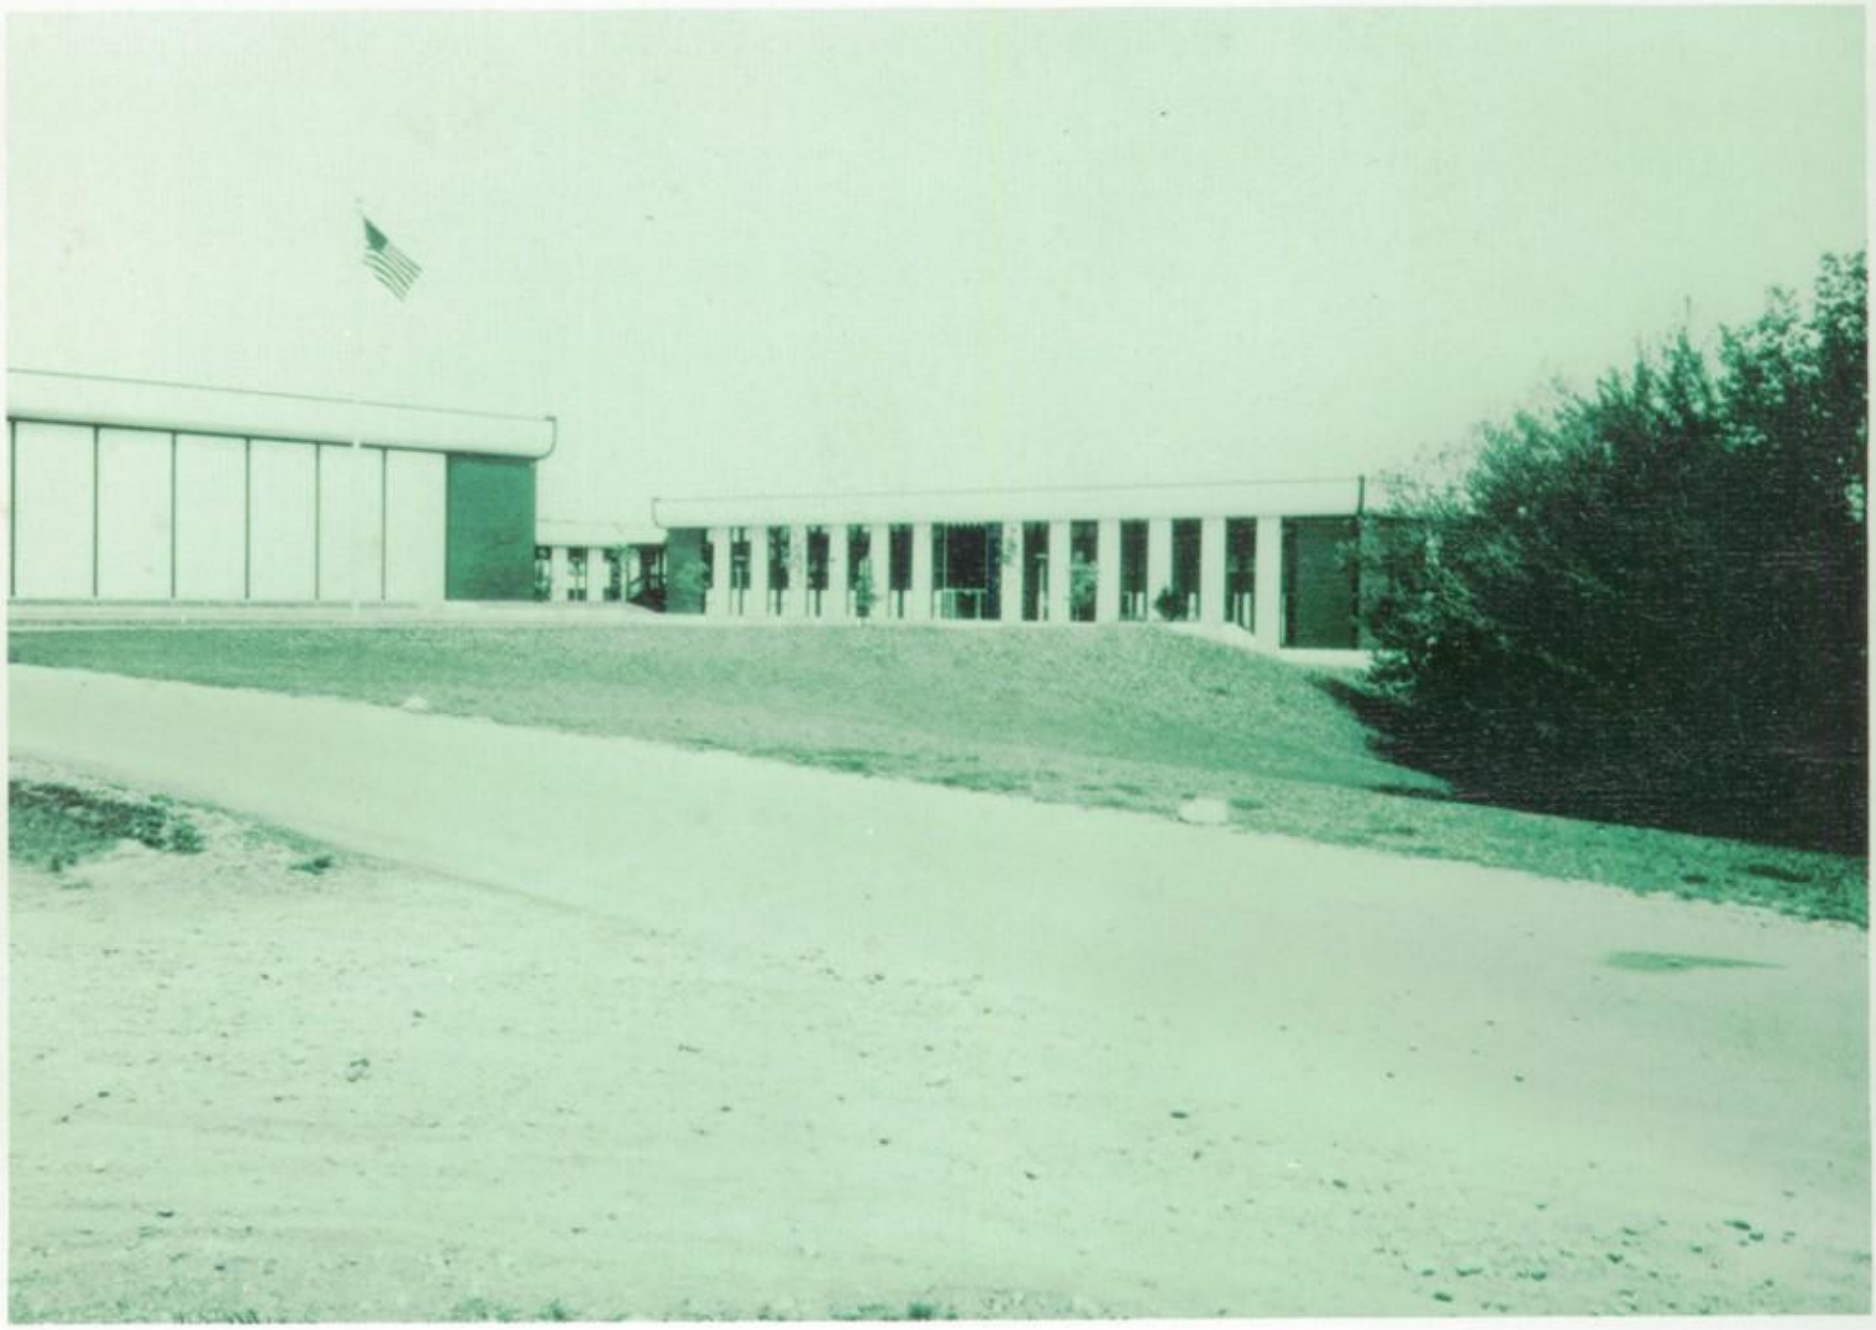
1967
GRAFTON HIGH

Wonderful composite, Grafton High—a combination of varsity lettermen and future stars, artists, actors, scholars and comedians, and even unforgettable blondes, brunettes, and redheads. You are a part of Grafton High School.

Progressively, it's been a great four years—moving to classes, cheering at basketball games, rushing to meetings, taking finals (I passed!), accepting honor or defeat. And the years that are to come promise to be even greater.

The stage has been set, the cue has been given, it's now up to you. You'll be meeting new people, seeing new places, and Grafton High will become "something that happened when I was younger." These four years have been both togetherness and separateness: a background for tomorrow. This COMPASS is a part of that background, a part of you.



THE CO
1967

Afoot and light-hearted I take to the open road,

Healthy, free, the world before me,

The long brown path before me leading
Wherever I choose.

Walt Whitman

MPASS

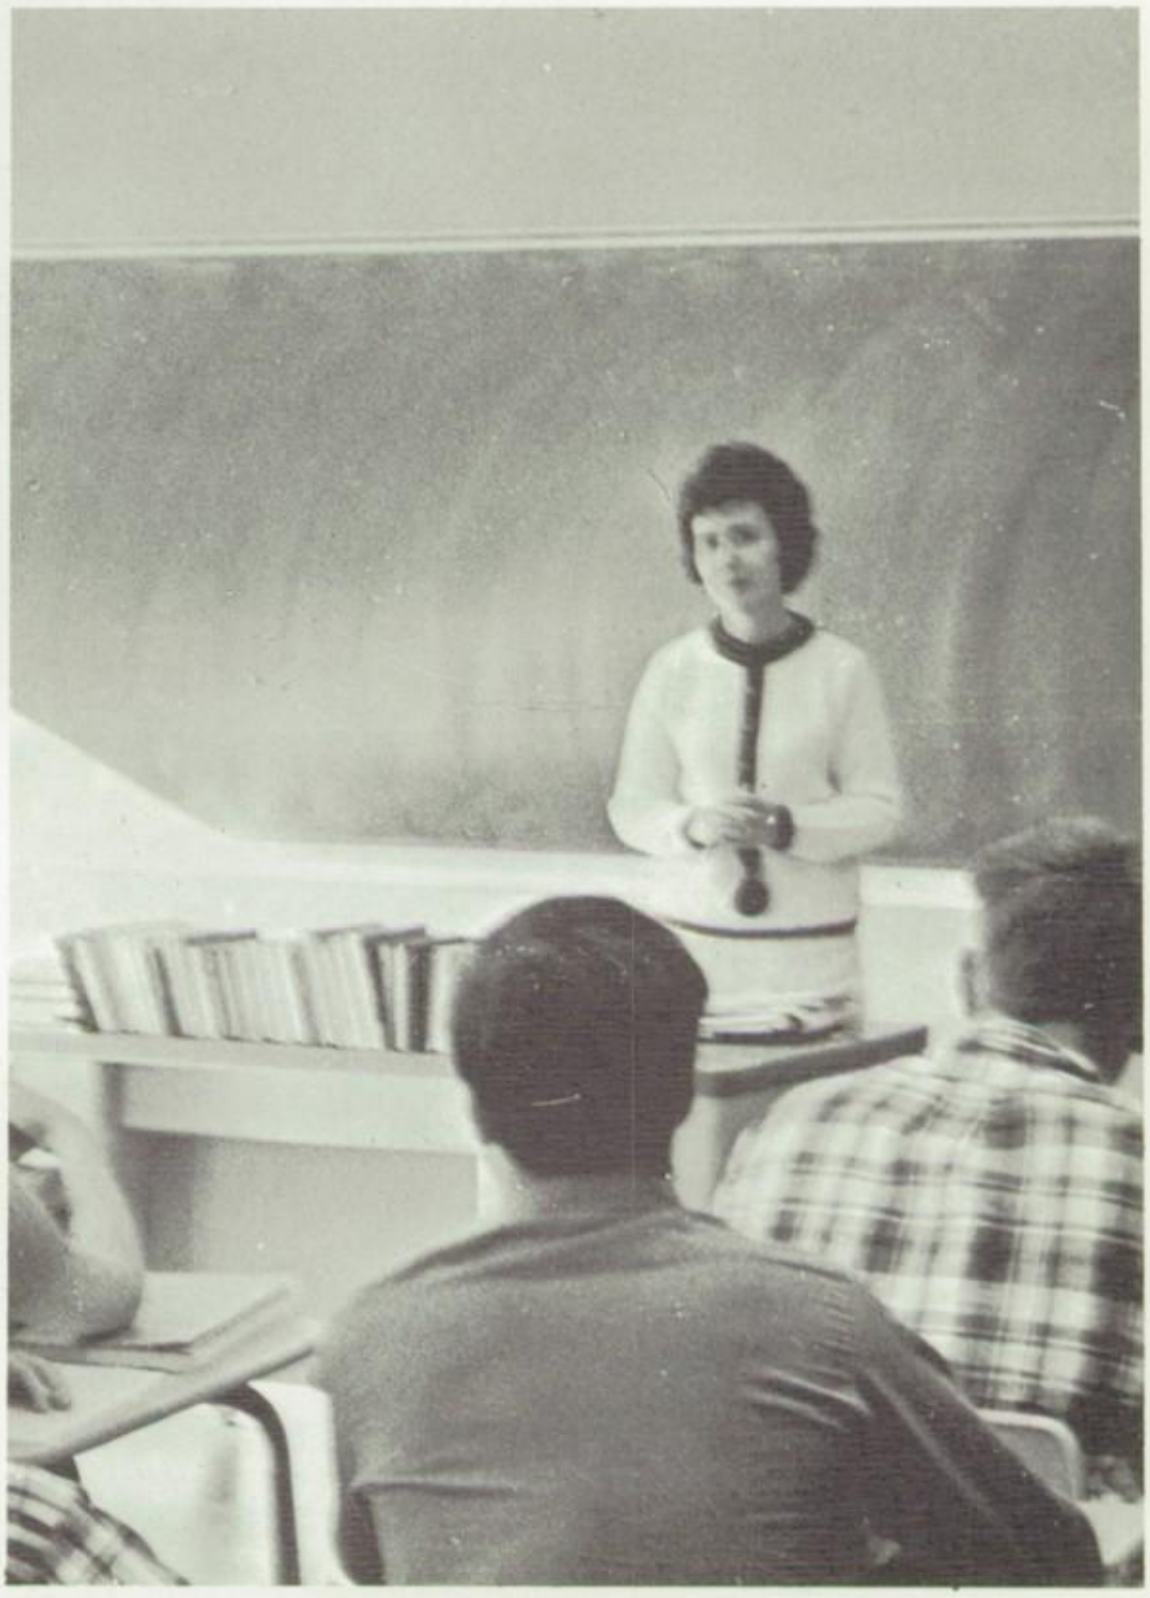
Grafton Memorial Senior High

Grafton, Massachusetts

Dedication

Ours has been a feeling of deepest admiration,
Of profound esteem, of sincere appreciation,
For one whose perseverance has made clear
The problems of Cervantes and Voltaire.
Who has shared with us our interests and ambitions,
Who was always there with reassurance and understanding;
You have expected much, but you have given us much more.
The years may pass, but we will always remember,
As we, the Class of 1967, dedicate this COMPASS
To Miss Dorothy M. Droney.

A teacher first . . .



. . . an advisor always.

Time . . . .
In fact, way before time,
The writing was discovered on the ancient wall.
The writing was also noticed on the sides of a dismal hall.
Writing that was serious and smooth, sweet and sometimes pure.
Ancient writing, the beginning of our English literature
From early writings, Shakespeare,
To present day writing, including the "Now and Here".
All writings express one basic thing,
The mind, its sorrows, pleasures, victories, defeats of the human being.
We sit in our classrooms and read and write, and read and write some more.
But why? What's the use in it, what's it for?
Perhaps to learn,
From stem to stern,
Who we are, what we are,
And, by some pure chance of luck, why we are.
And also why we must walk such a long road, and have such heavy burdens to tote.
Why? Because as Robert Frost once wrote,

"But I have promises to keep
And miles to go before I sleep.
And miles to go before I sleep."

So we also have promises to keep,
And we have many, many miles to go before we sleep.

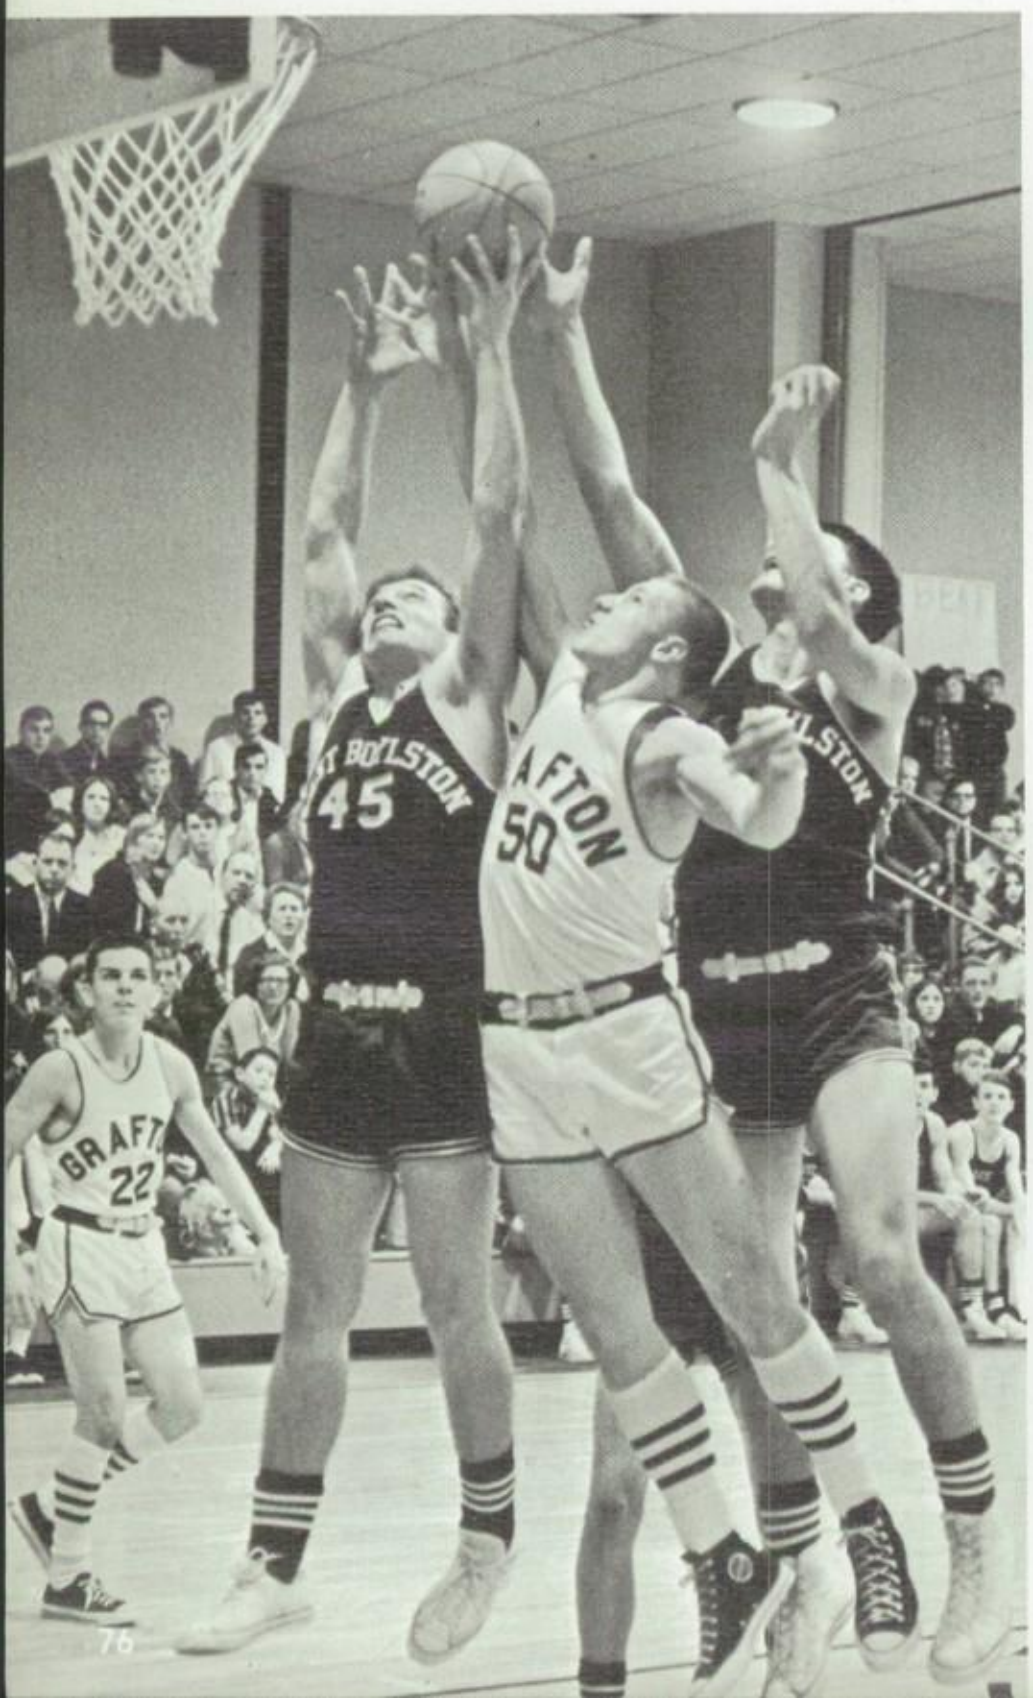
"Matty" on a pretty drive.



The Name of the

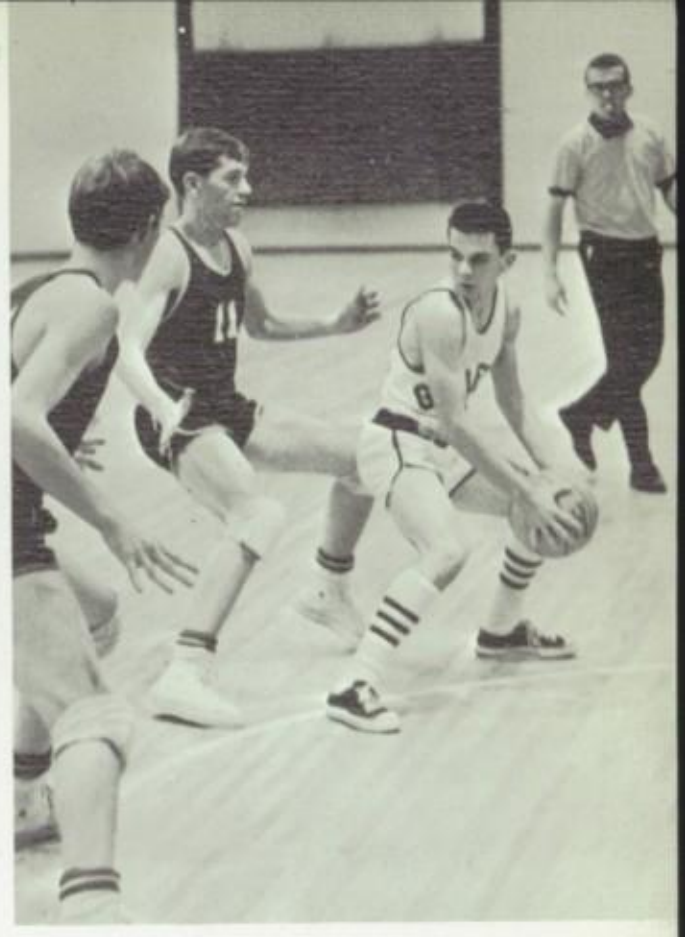
Grafton players poised for Santora's tap.

This year's basketball team, led by five veteran Seniors, had one of its finest seasons in many a year. The Indians posted an impressive 14-6 record and were in the league title race right down the line.

On merit of their good record, the Indians qualified for the District Three and Clark Tournaments. In one of the high points of the season, the Lake Ripple Braves ended Tahanto's 20-game winning streak in the semi-final round of the Clark Tourney.

Throughout the season, the Indians relied upon fine teamwork and a well-balanced attack. For ball-handling, excellent shooting, and good passing the Indians counted on their 5-6 guard Gary Marsden and 5-10 sharpshooter Steve McKeon. Co-captain Rich Mongeau and 6-2 Senior Mike Santora were tough off the boards, Rich with strong driving and Mike with his inside shooting. Of the starting five, co-captain Tom Mattus is "Mr. Everything." As described by Coach Blackburn, "Matty" is one of the best all-around players in the area. The Indians, however, did not have to depend solely on their Seniors. Junior Paul Bazinet and Sophomore Ron Lufkin helped in many a tight spot. Sophomore Joe Loconto was brought up from the Jayvee squad for the Clark Tourney. In the final game against Westboro, he led the team with 18 points. Rounding out the team were Juniors Scott Rossiter, Robin Alhquist, and Dave Glispin and Sophomore Bill O'Connell.

Grafton's biggest asset, Coach Tom Blackburn, by developing a team considered the best disciplined and most poised by many around the county, has earned the title as one of the top-flight coaches in the area and the admiration of everyone here at GHS.



Westboro found Marsden tough.

The Girls' Team Makes G.H.S. Proud

Following the winning ways of GHS during 1967, the Girls' Basketball Team fought their way to an impressive 11-3 record.

Under the leadership of Co-captains Anne Oksanish and Gail Fleming, the girls met and defeated such formidable foes as Marian, West Boylston, and Algonquin High Schools.

The "Squaws" were aided by the sharp shooting of Angela Cirrito and the strong defensive play of Linda Noel and Deborah Guglielmello. Other members of the squad who saw action during the season were: Andrea Leslie, Susan Griffin, Dolores Dumas, Carol Radzik, Maryann Bagdis, Deborah Nault, and Gretchen Bath.

Because of their achievements during the regular season, the team was invited to play in the Sutton Invitational Basketball Tournament, in which they finished in fourth place. Their 11-3 record was tops in their league.

(lower) Debby G. shoots.

Linda ties up the ball.
